Waste expansion at DuPont

Company seeks more tank storage; opponents fear 'pattern' is forming

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

About a dozen people attended an informational meeting hosted by the DuPont DeLisle plant Thursday evening. The company is requesting a modification to a Class II federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) permit for contained waste facilities. Representatives from the plant's safety, health and environmental department - Brad Martin, Linda Bernard and Nicole Tureaud and operations manager Ralph

Pass P.D. inspector accused of rape

Department 'shocked' by allegations of incest and sexual abuse

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

The chief investigator for the Pass Christian Police Department was arrested Wednesday afternoon on charges of sexual battery and incest.

Thomas Pustay was taken to the Harrison County Sheriff's department, where he is being held on a $200,000 bond. He faces up to 40 years in prison if convicted of both charges.

The victim was a family member, who alleged the abuse occurred when she was 16.

Tom Ruspoli, assistant chief of the Pass Christian Police department said Pustay, a 23-year law enforcement veteran, resigned following his arrest.

Ruspoli said he was shocked by the recent events.

"It certainly surprised me. He's been here about over twenty years."

Since the alleged crime occurred outside of Pass Christian city limits, the case is being handled by the Harrison County Sheriff's Department.

Armed Forces Day is Saturday

THE SEA COAST ECHO
On Saturday, May 21, American Legion Post #77 is hosting an extravaganza for Armed Forces Day with all Veterans Organizations of Hancock County and the City of Waveland.

Everyone is invited. The Armed Forces Day Program will consist of a mock naval assault on the beach near the Veterans Monument by Special Boat Team - 22 from the Stennis Space Center, an arm of the Naval Special Warfare Group - 4.

There will also be static displays for the public of the team's boat(s).

Following the assault program, all veterans and guests will be invited to Post #77 for a speeches and awards program to be followed by an outdoor picnic on the post grounds.

The Legion would like all veteran organizations of Hancock County to be participants.

If you wish to participate and be a "team player" in this unique opportunity to bring all veterans together for a spectacular show for the public, then call American Legion Post 77 and coordinate with Commander Cuevas or Adjutant Jerry Melancon (467-9637).

The legion will need assistance for all the picnic items: food, beverages, utensils, etc. The post will accept offers on an as needed, first come-first serve basis - so don't delay if you want to be a part.

Invited guests will include US Senators Lott & Cochran, US Congressman Gene Taylor, all civic leaders, and all national, state, district, and local veteran organization leaders.

Base closings affect South Mississippi

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

While Mississippi fared better than some states in the 2005 round of base closures, the Pascagoula Naval Air Station may not escape the chopping block.

This base, which employs 844 military personnel, and 112 civilian, was almost closed in 1995. The BRAC list also recommended eliminating inpatient services at Keesler Medical center and closing the Human Resources Support Center at Stennis and the U.S. Army Reserve Center in Vicksburg. All told, the fourth district of Mississippi stands to lose 1567 military and civilian jobs.

4th district representative Gene Taylor decried this year's list as "bone-headed decision" on the part of Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld.

"These days, Congress seems to be in the business of fixing Rumsfeld's errors in judgement," Taylor said.

Taylor said that many mistakes had been with regard to the military by the Bush Administration. He cited the lack of body and vehicle armor for troops serving in Iraq as one of many things that congress has had to correct. The BRAC act, he stated, was no different.

"As I've said time and time again, closing bases is a short sighted, ill-advised, and stupid thing to do. After (9/11), Rumsfeld should have backed down and retracted his plans for this round of BRAC. But he's stubborn, and on this issue, he's just plain wrong."

Senator Trent Lott, who strongly opposed shutting the station down during the last round of closures said that he hoped this year's round would be the last implementation of BRAC.

"During the past two weeks, (Rumsfeld) and the Overseas Basing Commission each have noted that excess military installation capacity may not be as large as originally projected," Lott said, in a written statement. "To me, this is yet another example of how 20 years of BRAC have proven to be an ineffective method of addressing the excess capacity issue, failing to accurately articulate our defense posture and needs, failing to show significant cost savings, and causing communities nationwide an undue amount of consternation and cash expenditure."

Senator Thad Cochran took a more optimistic view of Mississippi's losses.

"Given the scope of cuts contained in these recommendations, I am pleased to report that the State of Mississippi fared very well," Cochran said. "The fact that so many Mississippi military installations will remain open and active is a tribute to the collaborative efforts of many supporters at the local, state and national level."

Pass Christian Public Library Coast Episcopal art display

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Wild animals have invaded the Pass Christian Public Library. Colorful papier-mâché sculptures created by middle school students in art class at Coast Episcopal School are on display at the Pass Christian Library. The sculptures were created under the supervision of artist/teacher Kat Fitzpatrick. The Coast Episcopal middle school students participated in a coordinated study that involved science, creative writing and geography.

Examples of the sculptures include a 3 foot ostrich that surveys the magazine and newspaper section. A smiling hippo gives a yellow feathered love bird a ride on his back. A golden lioness naps next to a kangaroo, while a bright red and yellow rooster crows. There are sixteen animals in all in this display. The animals were formed with recycled newspaper, wire and liquid laundry starch and decorated with ribbon, feathers, paint and even a hula skirt. Coast Episcopal School is located on Esby Avenue in Pass Christian. Everyone is welcome to view the artwork. The Pass Christian Library is grateful to the students at Coast Episcopal School for sharing their art work with the library and their patrons.

Student charged with pot sales

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

A Saucier resident attending Hancock High School has been charged with two counts sale of a controlled substance (marijuana), according to Bay-Waveland Task Force directors Waveland Chief Jimmy Varnell and Waveland Chief Frank McNeil.

"Jeremy Donald Noller, 17, of Saucier was arrested on Monday, May 9, by Task Force Agents with one alleged sale of a controlled substance in Waveland and another in Bay St. Louis," the directors news release said.

The directors went on to say, "The two purchases totaled to nearly a pound of marijuana. Noller's bond was set at $40,000 and he has an initial court date of June 8 in Bay City Court and June 16 in Waveland Municipal Court."

Pass Christian Art Association meeting

The monthly meeting of the Pass Christian Art Association will be held Saturday, May 21, at 2 p.m. in the Community Room of the Pass Christian Library. The guest artist will be Beile Smith who works mainly in the areas of book binding and painting with ground metal. She will discuss some of the techniques she employs in her work and will bring several of her paintings to illustrate her methods. Guests are welcome and there is no charge. For information call Ernie Allison at (228) 452-4188.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas

Don't miss the Chamber After Hours Thursday

On Thursday, May 19, the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club and Cellular South will sponsor the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours.

The After Hours will be from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Whenever the Yacht Club and Cellular South team up for an After Hours, you can expect some very good refreshments and food.

The sponsors make this one of the highlight After Hours of the year.

So, mark your schedules to attend this great event.

By the way, I understand that two of the vice-presidents of Ionatron, a fast moving forward-looking technology company plan on attending.

Ionatron's newest facility is located at the John C. Stennis Space Center and is now in the process of hiring about 50 personnel for the facility.

They are looking to fill positions for all types of manufacturing positions, such as engineers, assemblers, technicians, etc.

A very important Education & Career Development Fair is scheduled to take place on Thursday, May 26, from 4 to 7 p.m.

This is a special project of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Education Committee, who will join Pearl River Community College and the University of Southern Mississippi, Gulf Coast Campus, in bringing the Salute to Education & Career Development event.

The event will take place at the PRCC-Hancock Center and the mall located inside the Wave on Highway 90, Waveland, (old Wal-Mart building).

The goal is to provide information to anyone 17 years of age and older who want to continue and/or complete their education, is considering a career change, or is underemployed and is in need of workforce training.

There will be more than 20 agencies, organizations and institutions on hand to provide information.

The Chamber will also provide information that includes an inventory of scholarships and job opportunities for students.

This sounds like a great opportunity for new high school graduates, as well as others seeking to change their careers.

Theory vs. Reality: The Free Trade Debate

At Nissan's Canton, Mississippi, automobile plant, President Bush this week touted his Social Security plan. Regardless of what you think about the ongoing Social Security debate, we all agree that the best retirement security is a good job, so the President's choice of venue for his remarks was important.

Mississippi's best social security plan is to keep good, Nissan-style jobs coming here. We can do this by continuing to encourage free and fair trade and by resisting extreme positions which ignore either the free or the fair part of trade.

Those who say American jobs suffer because of free trade are wrong. Conversely, those who believe in total free trade, with no safeguards to ensure fairness nor tax incentives to attract new jobs, are just as wrong. Both philosophies represent theoretical extremes. As we have seen in Mississippi, real world results lie in the middle, with a healthy balance of tax incentives to spawn job growth and, when necessary, even tariffs to protect existing jobs and ensure fairness.

President Bush's visit with Nissan's Mississippi workers demonstrates that our state is doing things right. Manufacturing in America is not dead, but is ever changing and moving forward. With tax incentives and a pro-business attitude from government, Mississippi won Nissan as well as a host of new, high-tech manufacturing jobs, including investments by foreign manufacturers. From steel to auto and aircraft

Mississippi now is a player, and we want to remain one.

Rather than lamenting the closure of old textile factories and picture frame plants, we must continue to look toward the future. After all, which job provides the better living and the better retirement - working in a textile plant or in an automobile or aircraft factory? The answer is clear. In addition to Nissan, Rolls-Royce, Eurocopter, BAE Systems, Northrop Grumman and Lockheed Martin are just a few of the international companies recently investing in Mississippi, providing jobs

Condos will ruin us

Dear Editor,
The reason for this letter is because of the building scheduled to take place on the beach side of the road in Clermont Harbor. The precedent has been set. Are you next?

I grew up in Bay St. Louis. I attended public school as well as private school in the Bay. I attended college at MSU where I met and married my husband of 16 years. Once my husband graduated from MSU, we moved to Huntsville, AL, where we lived for eight years.

For 6 of those years I went to Destin, FL on Memorial Day weekend with a group of friends. There are structures on the beach side of the road there. You can't see the beach or access the beach (except in very limited public areas) unless you're staying in one of the complexes on the beach.

My husband was transferred to Cape Canaveral, FL in 1998. We lived there for four years.

From Cape Canaveral to Indian Harbour Beach there are structures on the beach side of the road. Again, unless you're a tourist and staying in one of the complexes on the beach you can't see or have access to the beach (except from public access areas).

Currently I live in Houston, TX. I've lived here for the past two years.

Galveston is only about 20 minutes from my home. I just got off the phone with a Galveston resident, and she told me that there are about five hotel complexes on the beach side of the road in Galveston at the East end and West end of Seawall Drive. However, for most of your drive down Seawall Drive you are able to see the water. Tourists and residents alike have access to the beach anywhere they choose.

I certainly understand that hotels, restaurants, and shops bring in jobs and tax money to the area. I am not against progress. However, I am against destroying one of the things that makes the Mississippi Gulf Coast unique, a beautiful white sand beach that is accessible to everyone and visible from the beach drives.

Many of my classmates, as well as several friends I met in college, have returned to Bay St. Louis (and the surrounding area) to start and raise their families. These are people who have moved away, gotten a taste of "the world," but decided to come back to the Bay because of the small town charm. My husband and I will be pursuing the current owners of my grandfather's home for purchase as our retirement home. Everyone loves the small town charm of the Bay St. Louis and the surrounding Gulf Coast towns.

Letters to the Editor

In closing I have two points:

1. Building high rise hotels, condos, restaurants, and shops on the beach side of the road anywhere on the Mississippi Coast blocks the residents views and access to the beach and water. Do residents rent hotel rooms and condos in the town where they live? Of course they don't. Enjoying our beach will be a luxury reserved for the tourists, I guess.

2. Do the developers think that a hotel or condo complex built across the street from the beach will get no business? That is simply not true, most especially if there are no hotels or condos to choose from on the beach side. Let these developers dredge for boat slips to be put in with boating options available for guests, but keep the structures across the street.

I love Bay St. Louis and the Mississippi coast. I have great memories of that quiet little town. If all goes as planned, my grandchildren will be visiting me in the house my grandfather built for his family in the 40s. I sure would like to be able to walk along the beach or seawall with my grandchild and watch the fish jump in the bay.

Keep the structures across the street from the water. I've seen what it does to the beach and the view.

Regards,
Jamie Beasley
(A proud member of the Larroux family)

'A two-lane county road'

It's seven o'clock and I head down to the beach for my morning walk. I'm barefoot and the road is cool to my touch and, when I get there, so is the beach sand. I stop for a moment and look back.

Holly, my black cat, is sitting on the grass watching me. Although he sometimes comes on my walks with me, he's decided not to come today. The weather is getting warmer and since his collapse from heat stroke on the beach several years ago, he stays off the beach in warm and hot weather.

I will miss the spectacle of his mad dash across the road to avoid the pickup trucks (despite the fact that the nearest truck is a quarter of a mile away). As usual, there is very little traffic this morning. It won't pick up till about seven thirty and then there will be a brief half hour spurt of morning rush before dying back to the two to three cars-in-sight traffic jam the road is exhibiting now.

I do miss Holly not being with me. Since Jennie's death, he has been good company on my walks. He'll sit on the grass for a few moments and then will retreat to the Gazebo and wait till I come back. So I walk by myself along the waters edge and head for Carrere's pier.

I'm not really alone. There is a very large group of gulls sitting and yelling their lungs out on a flooded sand bar just off the shoreline. They are noisy! I stand for a moment, and listen to them. Unbelievable! Is it me they are screaming at? It turns out that as I move on, they continue their din. So I guess they just enjoy screaming.

As I walk, I see the filled-in sand is being bleached by the sun to a nice bright

Views from a Front Porch

by Paul Estronza LaViolette

white and even the water along the shore has returned to its tea brown clarity. It appears the filling-in phase of the beach restoration, at least in our immediate section, is over and things are back to normal. Looking it over, though, it appears they haven't filled in as much as last time. I have a feeling that they will be doing it again in five years.

At the cut emptying Lister's pond, I spook a heron that was wading inside the timber-braced walls. Highly disturbed by my presence, he squawks and flies across the road toward Lister's Pond and disappears into the trees. I'm not bothered, herons get upset easily. Looking down, I see that while the recent heavy rains may have added to the pond's outflow, I can easily wade across the ankle-deep cool waters of the exiting stream.

I've reached the limit of my walk. I touch Carrere's pier and head back. As I walk, I see I'm not the only one using the beach. At the end of pier there is a lone wade fisherman trying his luck. His pickup truck is parked on the other side of the road. On weekends, there is usually a number of trucks parked along the road with people from various parts of the county wade fishing.

Stella often takes the truck when she wade fishes. She drives to Bordage's to get her bait and then parks in front of the house and walks across the road to the water. It's convenient and when she comes in, she drives the truck around the back and uses the tailgate to clean her catch.

Later this evening, Nathaniel and Sheila with their two kids will probably walk down from their home far up the street, cross the road and fish while the children play on the sand. There are several people in the neighborhood that do that, but none are as ardent as Nathaniel. To him, fishing is the purpose of fishing. Catching fish is just a very nice extra.

It is a wonderful day. The cool weather has hung on and the clear sky makes the water, the sandy beach, the two-lane road and the massive dark oaks beyond seem like an idealistic painting of tranquility. Even the noisy gulls seem to be part of the tranquility.

It's a false tranquility, however. All this is about to change.

A shortsighted zoning change by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors has produced proposals for an unrestricted height condominium developments down the beach road at Bayou Caddy. These have already been approved "on condition of planning acceptance." There is little to indicate from their past actions, that the supervisors won't give approval to any of the developer's plans.

And so, in two years the county road will become a busy thoroughfare. In three years the increased traffic will require the two lane road to be widened. In five years the beach road traffic will resemble Hwy. 90 to our east and the ability of Hancock coastal residents to easily access their own beach will be forever gone. Progress! We're being given explanations sprinkled with ambiguous, crowd-pleasing words: Jobs! Money!

I wonder what it is that that money will buy. Will it be able to buy back this wonderment, this ambient paradise in which I am now standing?

I find my walk is over and I am in front of the house. I look for Holly. He's not at the Gazebo. I'm disappointed and cross the road to the house. Once on the grass, I hear a noise from the young oak at the west side of our property. Holly is climbing down and once down, saunters over to join me.

Looking over at the tree, I realize that he had been using it, sitting in one of its upper limbs so he could watch me on my walk. I hadn't really been alone after all.

As I walk to the house, I look back on the two-lane road I had so easily crossed. As I turn and follow Holly to the house, a bitter bile rises in my throat.

Don't it always seem to go
That you don't know what you've got till it's gone
They paved paradise and put up a parking lot

here with which workers can actually make a good living and a good retirement.

As the son of a union member, I'll admit that free trade is an issue with which I've struggled. I don't like to see any job lost nor any plant close or move away. Yet, the evidence is clear, as the world changes, free and fair trade practices, coupled with a healthy dose of business incentives from government, are the only means to attract today's jobs. That's why Nissan came to our state and why businesses will follow. For example, this week Airbus, the European aircraft and aerospace firm, announced that Mississippi is one of only four finalist sites competing for the company's next large aircraft manufacturing facility.

The key word here is "fair." All free trade must be verified to indeed be fair and backed up by corrective action if violations of fairness arise. That's why I led the fight to slap punitive trade tariffs on some Southeast Asian seafood imports, as well as on some Canadian soft lumber imports. In those cases, the trade wasn't fair. Their products were subsidized or given unfair advantages against Mississippi producers, and we took action to level the playing field.

After the excitement surrounding the President's Mississippi visit to Nissan has subsided, you'll likely hear some thoughtful analysis from people with an eye on the future and a good grasp of the modern economy. They'll matter-of-factly discuss changes in our manufacturing economy by acknowledging opportunities afforded us by foreign companies which, though headquartered in Tokyo, London or Stuttgart, employ American workers to assemble and design their products. Remember that every Nissan built in Canton also was engineered by Americans, for Americans.

You'll hear, too, from two theorists. One is a total free trader who doesn't think about fairness. He believes government hasn't the slightest role in the market, and he decries Mississippi's tax incentives for attracting jobs. He's never darkened the door of a plant and doesn't seem to worry about a level playing field for skilled American workers. Meanwhile, the other theorist basically is an anti-business extremist who sees free trade as a threat to the old order when unions ruled every worker, when cars were made only in Detroit, steel only in Pittsburgh, planes only in Seattle, and when Mississippians were relegated to growing crops or making socks.

Since neither of these theorists has to worry about the next check, they can afford to dabble in old theories while the rest of us look for real answers. Looking ahead to a greater economic future, we measure results with the new jobs that free and fair trade have brought to Mississippi, and in what opportunities it can yet bring.

Spring football ends for Bay, HHS, Pass & SSC

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
Staff Writer

The Bay High Tigers, Hancock Hawks, Pass Christian Pirates and St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws all ended their spring football practices with a jamboree on Thursday, May 12th.

The Tigers traveled to Ocean Springs to play in a jamboree with the Greyhounds, Greene County and Gulfport.

In their game against Gulfport, the Tigers lost 18-6. Tyler Brush connected with Robert Labat for Bay High's only score of the game.

Against Greene County, the Tigers came up short 24-12. Brush threw two touchdown passes to Michael Thompson in the game.

The Tigers and the Greyhounds ended their scrimmage tied 24-24. Theo Hawkins scored twice on runs of two yards. Tony Connetti scored on a 30-yard run and the final score was a pass-and-catch from Brush to Jason Sims.

Bay High head coach Brennan Compretta stated, "We do not put a lot of stock in spring games. This is a time for us to evaluate our talent and what we need to work on. As a staff, we were pleased with the performance of the defense early. However, we need to work on making the plays the whole way through. On offense, we have a ways to go. We got some good line performances from Teddy Morris and Grannison Sellier. Tyler Brush had a solid night at quarterback. Robert Labat and Tal Robateau also showed some flashes. This summer we plan to work locally with 7-on-7 competition and then attend the LSU 7-on-7 camp."

Bay High wide receiver Chaquille Lewis (20) breaks into Gulfport's secondary in Thursday afternoon's Spring Jamboree in Ocean Springs.

The Hancock Hawks traveled to Stone County to participate in a jamboree with the Tomcats, D'Iberville and Mendenhall. While the Hawks played solid and physically looked strong, they were taken out of their game by turnovers.

The Hawks fell to D'Iberville in the first game 28-0. Against the Warriors, the Hawks committed four turnovers - three fumbles and an interception.

The Hawks tallied over 90 yards rushing with Andrew Smith gaining 52 yards. Mark Fairley also tossed a 31-yard pass to Drew Esslinger.

In the Stone County game, the Hawks fell 19-0 but played much better. Hancock racked up 92 yards rushing with Smith gaining 56 yards on the ground. Braxton Necaise hooked up with Drew Malley for an 18-yard gain.

Defensively, Kevin Lafontaine totaled 13 stops and a blocked punt on the night. Brentley Necaise tallied 10 total stops between the two games.

The Pass Christian Pirates traveled to Biloxi to participate in a jamboree that included the Pirates, Biloxi Vancleave, St. Martin and St. Stanislaus.

The Pirates played the Vancleave Bulldogs in their first game. Pass Christian fell to the Vancleave 14-6 in the 30-minute running clock situation. Jaren Bowser scored the only Pirate points in the game on a sweep.

The Pirates played Biloxi in their second game of the night but scoring details of that game were unavailable at press time.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws defeated St. Martin 20-6 in their first game of the night. Josh Duplessis picked where he left off in the fall rushing for 42 yards on seven carries. Lance Cuevas was 13-of-15 for 112 yards and a touchdown.

SSC head coach Casey Wittmann commented, "We saw some good things tonight. We gave up a big play to St. Martin which they scored on. We need to continue to work hard on our mental game on both sides of the ball and limit mistakes. However, tonight gave us a gauge on what we need to focus on."

The Rocks played Vancleave in the second of the night; however, scoring details were unavailable.

Spring football is over; however, the gridiron season is right around the corner with summer training set to start during the first week in August.

SSC's Hewes advances to semis in state tennis action; Rocks end season on links

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
Staff Writer

Following district competition in golf and tennis, several area athletes advanced to the state championship matches in those respective sports.

Henderson Hewes of the SSC/OLA tennis team advanced to the semi-final round in boys singles in the Class 4A state tennis tournament before losing to Carl Ballard of Shannon High School.

Hewes defeated Jessie Vanduser of Forrest County AHS 7-6 and 6-0. He followed that win with a 7-5, 6-2 victory over Jiman Nelson of Jim Hill High School to advance to the semi-finals.

Christine Bratton advanced to the quarter-final round for the SSC/OLA team in girls singles. She defeated Amy Simpson of Kosciusko 6-0, 6-0. Bratton lost her quarter-final match with Maria Djuhan of Oxford 6-0, 6-0.

Djuan defeated Bay High's Hannah Johnson 0-6, 0-6 in the first round to advance to the quarter-final match with Bratton.

Sam Hall and Josh Ellis of SSC teamed up in boys doubles in the Class 4A state tournament. They lost their first round match with the Hill/Shows team from Petal High School 3-6, 4-6.

Sarah Loiacano and Kate Lobrano competed for OLA in girls doubles. They lost their opening round match with the Still/Goode team from New Albany 3-6, 3-6.

The Pass Christian mixed doubles team of Walters and Wallace advanced to the quarter-final round of the Class 4A state tennis tournament with an opening round 7-6, 6-4 win over the Phillips/Phillips team from Louisville. Walters/Wallace lost their quarter-final match with Jones/Taylor of Shannon 3-6, 5-7.

In Class 5A boys singles, Tom Stackman of Hancock lost his opening round match with Alex Boyd of Brandon 1-6, 0-6. In girls singles, Mollie Nunez of Hancock lost her opening round match with Kathryn Carrol of Madison Central 0-6, 1-6. Carroll went on to win the state 5A girls singles championship.

In high school golf action, the St. Stanislaus team won the Division 8-4A title which allowed them to compete for the Class 4A state championship at State Refuge Golf Club.

After the first day of action on May 11th, the Rocks sat in 10th place overall with a team score of 353. On the first day, Joe Muscarello led the Rocks with an 84 followed by James Wahl (85), Bobby Davidge (88), Blake Ittmann (96) and Johnny White (104).

On the second and final day of action, the Rocks dropped to 12th place overall out of 15 teams but finished ahead of division rival D'Iberville.

For the two-day tournament, the Rocks shot a team score of 711.

Joe Muscarello led the Rocks with a two-day total of 169 followed by James Wahl (170), Bobby Davidge (182), Blake Ittmann (190) and Johnny White (211). George County, the defending Class 4A team champions, repeated as state champs with a team score of 630.

Lowe's proposes wetlands fill for Waveland store

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Lowe's Home Center has applied for a wetlands fill in wetlands adjacent to Edward's Bayou. The applicant proposes to fill 9.04 acres of Pine Savannah wetlands in conjunction with the construction of their new store in Waveland on Hwy. 603.

The applicant is proposing a restrictive covenant on the remaining 4.08 of wetland at the site and is reserving 30 acres at the Little Biloxi Wetlands Trust Mitigation Bank.

Comment on the proposal will be accepted until June 2 by writing the District Engineer, U. S. Army Engineer District, Mobile, Post Office Box 2288, Mobile, AL 36628-0001, Attention Regulatory Branch, with a copy to the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality, Office of Pollution Control, Post Office Box 10385, Jackson, MS 39289, and the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources, 1141 Bayview Ave., Suite 101, Biloxi, MS 39530.

W. Hancock VFD Carnival is Wed-Sun

The West Hancock Volunteer Fire Department will hold a fundraising carnival on Wednesday, May 18 through Sunday, May 22 at the old fair grounds behind the Hancock County Civic Center on Longfellow Rd. The fair will open after school on the week days and all day on Saturday and Sunday offering rides, game booths and concessions. The department will use the money to purchase rescue equipment and hopes to raise enough for another jaws for life.

DuPont -- storage tanks

Singleton - were on hand to answer questions from the community at two stations. A third station was set up for questions not relating to the permit modification.

The requested modifications would allow for the expansion of an existing containment area to accommodate two additional 12,000 gallon storage tanks increasing total tank capacity by less than 3 percent, the application states. The tanks are to contain a clarified liquid (iron chloride) from the thickening and equalized flow between the thickening and settling steps.

Most of those in attendance represented either the Sierra Club or local environmental group Mississippi Environmental Recovery Alliance (MERA) said MERA's director Deborah Dauner. Though everyone seemed to want to be helpful, Dauner said, much of the information was presented in such highly technical language that it was difficult for many to understand thoroughly enough to ask questions.

Many of Dauner's questions centered on the composition of the tanks, the safety and maintenance of the new tanks and where the waste stored will go when it is emptied. The new tanks will be made from a composite plastic already in successful use at the plant, said Bernard, with daily inspections. The tanks have a 20-year lifespan. When a tank goes out of use it is cleaned and tested for contaminants and sent either to a RCRA land fill or to a regular landfill depending on the level of contamination. Maintenance will be performed during monthly shutdowns Dauner said she was told. When separated, the liquids will go down the deep well facility and the solids will go to an on site land fill, said public relations spokesperson Terry Gooding.

President of the Mississippi Sierra Club Becky Gillette said the group was concerned because according to 2003 data released by the EPA the DuPont Delisle plant ranks first in the United States in volume in its disposal of many toxic substances into deepwells. The group says it is also concerned about the amount of contaminants disposed in onsite landfills. They say they are not satisfied with the conditions of the already existing permit. Dauner said her group is concerned that the request indicates future expansion. She said her group is also concerned with the possibility that requesting modifications in already existing permits will become a pattern.

Cocaine

Guilbeaux, 21, both of Gulfport, were arrested and charged with the sale of a controlled substance, (pure cocaine) in the Diamondhead area.

Agents seized approximately two ounces of cocaine. Lawrence's bond was set at $100,000, while Guilbeaux's was $50,000. Both were lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility Thursday afternoon. On Wednesday morning, Harrison County placed a hold on Lawrence," Karl added.

Karl said his department had been working on this case for about three days, as information was received that a sale was to take place in the Diamondhead area Thursday afternoon.

"All agents from the Narcotics Division and one criminal investigator set up a surveillance of the area around 1 p.m. and about an hour later after the sale was completed, the two arrests were made," Karl reported.

Karl indicated there is a strong possibility of other arrests being made in this case and that Agent Clifton (Bubba) Malley is in charge of the investigation.

Also, the investigation has been extended into Harrison County, according to Karl.

Street value for the cocaine seized was estimated at between $1600 to $2,000, Karl said.

"There is also going to be a lot of sightseeing around Hong Kong. We're also going to mainland China."

Davenport, Sanderford and Woods were among 143 student musicians chosen from across the state. According to Cook, Lions Club of Mississippi has about 3,000 members, 750 of whom auditioned for the convention this summer.

Anthony McWright, band director for Hancock High, said this was the second year that students from Hancock had been chosen to compete.

"It's probably the highest honor a Mississippi Musician can get," he said.

The Lions Club Band was formed in 1949 as a civic organization. According to Cook, it's main target is vision and tissue donation. Since 1949, Mississippi has won at the international convention 22 times.

"We're working on 23," Cook said.

There will be a fundraiser today, from 6-8 p.m., at Da Beach House in Bay St. Louis, to help the students defray the costs of their travel. The fundraiser includes a silent auction and raffle for a "Stay in the Bay" including a massage for two, dinner for two and lodging at a bed & breakfast.

Happy Birthday "Patsy Koerner"
7-26-03

Mother's Day has passed. Fresh Flowers on your Grave, now it's your Birthday and more Flowers will come today. It seems like yesterday when you were here. I haven't forgotten the things you have done for me over the years.

I miss you still and it still brings tears to my eyes when one of your friends say how much they miss you. Dottie tells me she has seen you more than once and she is glad you still come to see if she is ok.

So many others miss you, Fraiser, Patsy, Ruth, just to mention a few. All have something nice to say in regards to you.

So to let you know we still haven't forgotten you and I know I never will. Daddy misses you a lot and that he always will, so from him to you, he sends love with a dozen Red Roses for his one true love.

Happy Birthday Mom Love Harriet

Diamondhead Garden Club celebrates 'Land of the Free'

"Land of the Free Because of the Brave" is the theme of the Patriotic Small Standard Flower show set by the Diamondhead Garden Club at the Diamondhead Country Club for May 27 and May 28.

The hours are from 3 to 5 p.m. on May 27 and 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on May 28. Garden club members will contribute designs and horticulture. Any amateur gardener is welcome to contribute to this show; the public is invited. Contact Susan Holcomb for complete information at 255-8690.

As chairperson, Holcomb encourages anyone to participate in the fun project. The regular membership meeting is scheduled for May 18 at 11 a.m. at the Diamondhead Country Club in Ballrooms A and B followed by an installation of new officers and lunch.

The new slate of officers is Susan Holcomb, President; Acker Brierley, 1st Vice-president; Karen Flores, 2nd Vice-president; Linda Naron, Secretary; Sandy Noon, Treasurer.

Horticulture Chairperson Jean Dorman reminds us that roses are in their beginning blooming period and with dependable care can produce beautiful blooms until the fall.

They need regular watering from .5" to 1" of water per week, watering only at the base and not splashing on the leaves. Weekly applications of fungicide and insecticide are needed to keep plants healthy. Pests are red spider mites and black spot. May be propagated by grafting and budding.

Dorman continued that warm season annuals might be planted now, such as phlox, portulaca, zinnias, marigolds, celosia, sweet alyssum, morning glory and more. Come to the meeting to hear additional recommendations, she invited.

Next meeting will be the third Wednesday in September at the Community Center in Diamondhead, 10 a.m. Any interested gardeners are invited to attend, no charge.

Dunbar Village Courtyard becomes official Eden Alternative Home

On Thursday, March 3, Dunbar Village Courtyard was recognized as a Registered Eden Alternative Home. The recognition honors organizations that are willing to commit themselves to building human habitats for staff and elders.

The Eden Alternative is a powerful tool for improving the quality of life for our elders. Begun in 1991 by William Thomas, M.D., it draws on ancient truths concerning care and aging in an effort to transform long-term care. The core concept of the Eden Alternative is strikingly simple. It eliminates the three plagues of loneliness, helplessness, and boredom. It encourages the elders to have companion animals, creates the opportunity to care for other living things, and promotes variety and spontaneity in daily life thereby enlivening the elders' environment.

Dunbar Village is owned by SentryCare, Inc. which is the first for-profit company in Mississippi to endorse The Eden Alternative. The goal of Dunbar Village is to see long-term care as habitats for human beings rather than institutions for the frail and elderly.

Hancock Chamber Career Fair set for Thursday, May 26th

More than 20 exhibitors are expected to participate in the upcoming 2005 Education & Career Development Fair sponsored by the Education Committee of the Hancock Chamber with support from Pearl River Community College, University of Southern Mississippi, and the Sea Coast Echo. The event will be held on Thursday, May 26th from 4pm-7pm at the PRC Center on Highway 90 in Waveland.

The Career Fair is being held to help anyone who is 17 years of age or older who wants to continue or complete their education, is considering a career change, or is simply underemployed and is in need of workforce training. The types of services offered during the fair include career technical (voc-tech), continuing and community education, workforce training, academic education and professional education. Those planning to exhibit will provide information on scholarships, financial assistance, internships, job opportunities and student employment.

"If you are looking for a new direction, we hope you will take advantage of this opportunity because it may just change your path," said Tish Williams, executive director of the Hancock Chamber.

The Education Committee of the Hancock Chamber is coordinating a directory of education and career development services, internships, scholarships, job opportunities and student employment that will be distributed to participants attending the fair. If your company, agency or institution offers these types of services, contact Ashley Boone at the Hancock Chamber to include this information in the directory: 228-467-9048.

Clermont Harbor Days

The old Clermont Harbor Hotel, built in 1914 and destroyed in 1946 by an early morning fire.

Residents old & new find safe refuge in Clermont harbor

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

To the casual observer who may make a wrong turn off Beach Blvd. and find themselves in the Clermont Harbor Community, the tree-lined streets and mostly small unassuming cottages may not seem to be anything special. In fact, some people might even see it as a place that needs to be cleared out, spiffed up and brought up to date.

True, the little community nestled at the far end of Beach Blvd. certainly could not be called upscale, trendy, state-of-the-art, or any of the catchy phrases used by many travel guide books. It's not fancy; it's not slick and it is definitely not a resort destination for the affluent. But to many of the people who call it home, either part-time or as full-time residents, that very fact is what makes the close-knit community a little bit of heaven.

Fifteen-year Harbor resident and relative newcomer Lori Gordon grew up in the prairies of North Dakota in a family of very modest means, she says. When she discovered the coast on a short vacation while traveling between her two homes in Arizona and South Dakota, she knew she loved the area. But when she discovered the remote Clermont Harbor Community, she knew she had found her forever home.

"When I found I could afford to live just a few blocks from the beach I thought I was in heaven," Gordon said. "I still do."

But now Gordon says she is worried that what has long made the community accessible to the "ordinary person" will become a thing of the past. Right now the beach is accessible to everyone, to people of all economic backgrounds. She and her husband, David, "Cairo" Wheeler, both artists, had planned to spend the rest of their lives on the property they own on Clermont Harbor Blvd., Gordon says.

"It is the perfect set up for us," said Gordon. "We are outdoor people and we enjoy fishing, crabbing and shrimping. Cairo enjoys feeding the birds and watching the wildlife. We are established in the local art scene and even have our regular clients—we don't want to think we might have to move."

In their large back yard

sunlight is filtered through the tall trees that are a standard in the area. A wooden bridge crosses a small creek where Cairo says a large snapping turtle resides. He was here a minute ago, he says. The two have a separate studio kept private by a grove of tall bamboo, a treehouse and a dock on the harbor that allows them access to the Sound during high tide. An ideal day for the pair includes a bike ride to watch the sun come up over the gulf, a few hours of painting for Lori, wood-working for Cairo, a boat ride in the harbor if the tide is up, dinner and an early bedtime.

The harbor, almost invisible to the casual observer, has been a cornerstone of activity to those who grew up here. As with the other nearly invisible small lakes scattered throughout the area, the harbor and nearby Sandy Bayou hold memories of golden sunsets, swimming, boating, and fishing for green trout. And with the Sound just down the block, it's not hard to guess that much of life in Clermont Harbor has centered around the water.

For lifelong resident Russell Guerin memories centering around the harbor and the Sound are abundant. His family began to visit the coast when his grandparents, Emily and Morinville would come to the area for the summer. Guerin's father, Wilfred and his mother Camille bought property in Clermont Harbor before Russell was born and built a summer home on Forest Ave. Later the family acquired a lot on the beach front and rolled the small house down to its new location on logs. It was a nice house with a wrap around porch, Guerin remembers.

Coming out from New Orleans each summer Guerin and his brothers Wilfred Jr. and Roland, and sister Gloria, made friends with the "county kids" easily. The civic association took care of the one pier into the sound and it was about 900 feet long. Many a friendship was struck up along the long skinny pier.

"No child could come out and not make friends," said Guerin. "Because we would all meet on the pier."

An ice cream parlor at the foot of Bordage St. was also a favorite meeting place for the kids. Softball games were played in the cleared area behind the parlor. "It was the country boys versus the city boys," said Guerin.

Most weekday mornings the fathers of the city kids drove their cars to the L & M depot and took the train into New Orleans to work. In the evening the men would play cards and have a drink or two on the train on the way home. It was easy living. "Sometimes my father would get home in

When the tide is high, Gordon and Wheeler can boat all the way to the Mississippi Sound from their dock in the harbor.

Asper named 2005 STAR Student at OLA

Jennifer Renae Asper, Our Lady Academy senior, has been named STAR (Student Teacher Achievement Recognition) Student for the 2004-05 school year by the Mississippi Economic Council's M. B. Swayze Educational Foundation, sponsor of the STAR program, according to Sister Jackie Howard, RSM, principal. Asper is the daughter of Lindell and Vernon Asper of Diamondhead.

STAR students are selected on the basis of academic excellence. Both American College Test (ACT) scores and high school scholastic averages are compared to determine the school's STAR Student, explained Peggy Howard of Jackson, chief operating officer of the Swayze Foundation.

"The STAR program encourages and promotes academic achievement among Mississippi's high school seniors," she said.

An Alpha Honor Roll student for six years, Asper is the vice-president of OLA's Msgr. Martin Maloney

Mrs. Marie Bartels, STAR Teacher (left), and Jennifer Asper, STAR Student (right).

Chapter of the National Honor Society (NHS) and a member of the Spanish Honor Society. She has been named a Commended Student in the 2005 National Merit Scholarship Program and was a 2005 Presidential Scholar nominee. Asper recently received the Lindy Callahan Scholar Athlete Scholarship from the Mississippi High Schools Athletic Association. Earlier this year, she was nominated by OLA for the Wendy's High School Heisman Award. Asper is a co-founder of the Crescent Running Club and the current president, having served as vice-president for both her sophomore and junior years. On the Varsity Track Team since the eighth grade, Asper is a five-time state qualifier. In the 2005 State Finals, she placed third in both the 1600m and 3200m. She was the state champion in the 1600m and 3200m in 2004. Asper has been a member of the Varsity Cross Country Team since the seventh grade. In Cross Country, she made All-State (top 14 in state) five times and was the 3A State Champion in 2003. She has also been the team captain in both Cross Country and Track for the last two years.

Asper was named a Pepsi Student of the month from her class in grades 10-12. A member of the Quiz Bowl Team, she is also a three-year member of the Literary Magazine and the current editor. Asper participated in OLA's first Speech and Drama Presentation this spring. A member of the Word of Faith Christian Fellowship Church, Asper belongs to the Youth Group and volunteers as a nursery worker. She has also volunteered her services in the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life, the University of Southern Mississippi library move, and OLA's Southern Association (SACS) Accreditation.

Asper plans to attend Messiah College where she received the Trustees' Scholarship and major in pre-medicine.

Each STAR Student is asked to designate a STAR

Teacher, the classroom teacher who has made the greatest contribution to the student's scholastic achievement.

Marie Powers Bartels was designated by Asper as her STAR Teacher. She lives in Biloxi and has been teaching a total of 24 years. Bartels earned a BA Degree at Regis College, Weston, MA and a M.Ed. at Lesley College in Cambridge, MA.

A faculty member at Our Lady Academy since 1996, Bartels teaches Spanish I-IV. She is the faculty coordinator of the school's yearbook and a junior class co-sponsor. Bartels was also named STAR Teacher in 1996 and has been listed in Who's Who Among American High School Teachers twice.

PVT Clifford Allen Rasbury

On April 29, 2005, Army PVT Clifford A. Rasbury graduated from the Infantry Training Brigade, basic training with the 1st Battalion, 19th Infantry Charlie Company based at Ft. Benning, GA.

PRCC receives Support Services grant

Pearl River Community College's Student Support Services program has received a $298,263 grant. The grant is for the first year of a four-year program that was approved.

The grant comes from the Federal TRIO Programs Student Support Services of the U.S. Department of Education. Thirteen institutions of higher learning in Mississippi, including the University of Southern Mississippi and Mississippi State University, received grants, with PRCC receiving the highest amount.

"We are ecstatic with joy, so very happy, and thankful about our reward, and for the 12 other programs," said Bob Escudero, Director of PRCC's Student Support Services program, which has been in operation at PRCC since the early 1990s.

Escudero, who came from a disadvantaged background and was a former PRCC student, said the competition in higher education for these funds is fierce, and not all applicants get funded.

"Being funded is a form of recognition and a source of great pride for our staff," said Escudero. "People who work in these programs are committed to their work and to services they provide to the students. To be successful with these projects, it takes dedicated staff that function on a high level."

These funds are used to help increase the retention and graduation rates of low-income and first-generation college students, as well as students with disabilities.

The grants help schools provide tutoring, personal counseling, and academic advising for students. It also helps students explore career options and assists in securing financial aid. The program assists both academic and technical students.

According to Escudero, although the program is funded in four-year project cycles, each year's funding is contingent on the program meeting established criteria and performance objectives related to persistence (staying in school and not dropping out), good academic standing, graduation from the community college and/or transfer to a four-year college or university.

"Many of our students are very good students, but they just need a helping hand from time to time, some encouragement, guidance and someone to believe in them," said Escudero. "We have a very dedicated staff that put their heart and soul into the program and take great pride in the services we offer our students."

Members of the PRCC Student Support Services staff include Frankie Thomas, administrative assistant; Marilyn Gardner, educational administrator/tutorial lab supervisor; and Gwen Pugh, educational counselor.

Ninth Annual Senior Citizen's Fair and Expo

An eagerly anticipated annual event is coming back to Picayune, on Saturday, June 4, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.

It's the 9th Annual Senior Citizen's Fair and Expo, an event designed to attract visitors, aged 40 plus, and their families. Picayune is one of Mississippi's certified retirement communities, and is listed in the top three areas of expected growth in "Boombtown U.S.A." with hundreds of new residents moving to that area yearly.

The Senior Citizen's Fair and Expo allows local state, county and city offices the opportunity to distribute information to newcomers, and it also allows local businesses and professional offices the opportunity to spotlight their products and services that may be of interest to newcomers and local Senior Citizens.

Each year the annual Senior Citizen's Fair and Expo grows larger, with more exhibitors setting up booths, and more people attending the event. The crowd enjoys live entertainment, including the Piney Wood Cloggers, the Senior Center Line dancers, local country music artist Steve "Woogie" Kellar, and the Pistols and Petticoats square dancers, who actually teach a short square-dancing class! Between live entertainers, the crowd enjoys the sounds of big band music played by the staff of local radio station

WRJW 1320 AM.

Another big attraction for the fair is the over $4000 in door prizes given away to all those who register. This year door prizes include a Nashville vacation, a Florida vacation, tickets to the Audubon Zoo and the Aquarium of the Americas, a nice recliner, television, microwave oven, curio, and much more. The first 1000 people through the door are given free goodie bags, stuffed with information and gifts from area businesses.

Last year over 250 people were waiting in line when the doors opened at 9 a.m., and an estimated 3500 people attended the fair. McDonald Funeral Home gives away three $100 dollar prizes through the day.

Exhibitors from as far away as Hattiesburg, New Orleans, the Gulf Coast, and Slidell offer free health screenings, including blood pressure checks, eye screenings, blood glucose screenings, bone density screenings, hearing screenings, and offer samples and discount coupons for their services and products.

A few booth spaces remain to be filled, so anyone interested in a booth should call Delores Wood or Rhonda Fullilove at Pearl River Communications, at 1-800-284-5096.

Poyadou is 'Sunburst Queen'

Tasia Poyadou of Waveland competed in the Mississippi Sunburst Pageant in Meridian in late April. The competition was opened to preliminary winners throughout the state. Tasia was named Overall Winner for ages 5-27. The Overall winner is determined by the highest combined score from all events: beauty, interview, talent, formalwear, sportswear, swimwear, model search, photogenic, composite and portfolio. Among her awards, Tasia received a $750 savings bond and the opportunity to advance to the national competition in Atlanta this summer.

She is a junior at Bay High School and the daughter of Rodney Poyadou and Tish Morel.

time to take us fishing."

Later, during the war there was a complete blackout along coastal areas, with blackout shades being drawn in the evenings. "You couldn't even light a cigarette on the beach," Guerin said. "Cars had their headlights painted black on top so they only shone down. We still went foundering, but we learned to do it during the day. More than once I remember seeing fires in the distance (across the water) and I thought that it was German submarines firing on ships coming out of the Mississippi."

After the war Wilfred Sr. bought the old Clermont Harbor hotel, originally built in 1914 by Charles Hopkins. The grand old place had seen its up and downs, but Wilfred Sr. completely remodeled the building. Russell remembers being up in the attic and looking at the old cypress beams and the beautiful view of the sound from the high window there. There was a pavilion next to the hotel where bands would play for hotel guests and for community dances.

When the remodeling was complete, the two-story hotel opened for business on June 1, 1946 with about 40 registered guests occupying the 40 rooms, which shared 20 baths. On the morning of June 2 a fire broke out in the building. The hotel burned to the ground with many guests escaping in only their night clothes.

Research room named after de Montluzin in FMU's Rogers Library

The microforms and bound periodicals room in Francis Marion University's James A. Rogers Library has been named after retiring FMU history professor Emily Lorraine de Montluzin, formerly of Bay St. Louis.

"The E. Lorraine de Montluzin Research Room" was dedicated during a ceremony at the library May 6.

At the ceremony, FMU president Luther F. Carter also announced the establishment of the Emily Lorraine de Montluzin Endowed Fund for Library Enhancement. The fund has been created under the auspices of the Francis Marion University Foundation and is designed to provide in perpetuity, through its earnings, for the purchase of books to add to the library's collection and thus to strengthen the resources available to faculty, staff, and students.

"No one is more deserving of this recognition than Lorraine," said Carter. "For more than 30 years, she has dedicated herself to scholarship, teaching and service. It is fitting that the room where she spent so many hours doing academic research will now bear her name."

De Montluzin has researched and published seven scholarly books and numerous articles from the collections in Rogers Library.

"Lorraine uses our resources and facilities so much that it is her second home," said library dean Paul Dove. "We have joked about her camping out at the microfilm readers. Even when she spends summer time off at her gulf coast Mississippi home, she requests interlibrary loans from us so that she can pursue her research there."

De Montluzin retires this month after 31 years of service at FMU. Her many distinctions at FMU include being named Distinguished Professor in 1988 and a Trustees Research Scholar in 2002. She is also a member of five honor societies, including Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi, and has been the recipient of several prestigious fellowships. Before beginning her career at FMU, she graduated summa cum laude, with honors in history, from Tulane University, and thereafter earned M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Duke University.

She is a graduate of Bay Senior High and the daughter of Mrs. Emily de Montluzin of Bay St. Louis and the late Rene de Montluzin Jr.

As a professor of history, de Montluzin has taught a wide array of courses in Georgian and Victorian Britain, the cultural and intellectual history of 18th- and 19th-century Europe, and the history of medieval Europe, including six for FMU's Honors Program. As a scholar, she has published 24 articles and seven books, many pertaining to British press history, including a 1,700-page electronic database of items in Georgian England's Gentlemen's Magazine. She has made dozens of presentations at academic conferences and area schools and is a member of numerous historical, academic and civic organizations.

"Lorraine's greatest contributions to FMU arguably reside in her leadership," said Jon W. Tuttle, FMU professor of English and fellow Trustees Research Scholar. She has been a member (and frequently chair) of many departmental and university committees, including the Faculty Senate, the Academic Council, and the Faculty Life and Academic Freedom and Tenure Grievance Committees. In 2000, she received FMU's first Shared Governance Award.

De Montluzin recently accepted an appointment as editor of the Journal of Press History, a new online scholarly journal to be permanently affiliated with FMU.

Math & Science

Eleven Hancock High School students recently participated in the 31st Annual Mississippi Science and Mathematics Tournament at Mississippi College. Mississippi's brightest students representing approximately 150 public and private schools from every region of the state convened on the campus to take part in the tournament that recognizes students and their high schools for outstanding achievement in the fields of biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics, and computer science. The following were representatives of Hancock High: (standing L to R) Cody Arceneaux - Top 20% in Mathematics, Charles Clark - Top 20% in Math and Physics, Thomas Donaldson - Top 10% in Physics and Computer Science, Tom Stockman, Ryan Chauvin, Aaron Ladner, and Mark Hussey (seated L to R): Physics teacher/sponsor Keene Golding, Kate Sullivan - Top 20% in Biology, Chayna Cosse - Top 15% in Math and 20% in Physics, and Amanda Dearman. Not pictured is James Breitner - Top 10% in Math and 3% in Physics. In addition, Thomas Donaldson and James Breitner competed in the Mississippi State University High School Physics Competition where Breitner placed 3rd and Donaldson placed 6th in their respective groups.

The Sea Coast Echo

Hancock's Local Newspaper since 1892

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you're looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday through Friday 8am to 5pm, or stop by our office at 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

Since 1892, The Sea Coast Echo is proud to be a part of your community.

What odds does the Bible give?

You may know that the shortest chapter in the Bible is Psalms 117. Perhaps you also know that the longest chapter in the Bible is Psalms 119.

But did you ever imagine that the very center of the Bible is Psalms 118?

These are interesting numbers so far, aren't they? It gets much more intriguing. There are 594 chapters before Psalm 118. There are 594 chapters after Psalm 118. Add 594 plus 594 and you get 1188. Which leads us to the clincher.

The Bible, the Word of God, is obviously not built on probabilities, numerology or any science or practice. Yet, the center verse in the Bible is mysteriously Psalm 118:8 which reads: "It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in man."

After reviewing the eye-popping sets and compositions of these numbers, one is tempted to wonder about the implications of the simple yet incredible combinations of numbers. To determine this, the thought of numerology apparently comes into the minds of many people who take delight in dabbling with numbers and portents.

Numerology is the practice of foretelling the hidden future by the study of supposedly meaningful numbers or combinations of numbers based on a date of birth, the letters of a name and other personal factors. It is also called the occultism of numbers.

There are numerous people everywhere who religiously play the numbers game, and not just the big-city game arranged and overseen by bookies. Numbers, particularly by sets and patterns, have an uncanny fascination and magnetism for most people.

It is most curious that myriads of people use the Bible as a veritable launching pad for foretelling the future, and various numbers in the Bible are the main resource. To the mysterious numbers found in the Bible, such as 666 in Revelation 13:18, one must add the incomparable arrangement of biblical chapters and numbers we have mentioned.

Even though Jesus warned us strictly against predicting the future, especially the end of the world, by using statements and figures given in the Bible, a clear majority of humans still tumble pell-mell into observations such as, "You can tell by the weather, the seasons and the sinful times, these are the last days of the world. The time is short!"

Putting it mildly, this is mind-boggling. How many human authors have collaborated in the Bible to render by their own thoughts the inspirations they are convinced have come to them through inner movements of the Spirit of God? These human authors take their individual origins from various cities, countries and even centuries of time spans.

So, how would any one person, let alone a considerable number of independent people conspire somehow to make the Bible composite fall neatly into the above-mentioned sets of numbers and divisions? The odds of all these authors causing that to happen are not just prohibitive, but downright astronomical. It demands too much of human reason.

Therefore, how did all this happen? That is exactly the point. It did not happen, simply because it could not have happened. The statistical overall makeup of the Bible is rather analogous to those odds which we find in the vast universe where competing bodies and forces ultimately conspire to form the most finely-tuned working marvel anywhere.

With staggering odds, the universe screams out constantly to all creation that it did not merely happen, that its inconceivable multi-light-year vacuums of endless space were no accident but the product of an intelligent mind. Yes, Somebody is out there somewhere.

For all his ambivalent statements about a transcendent, divine Creator, one-of-a-kind super astrophysicist Albert Einstein did frequently salute the incredible, imitable order of the universe. Unfortunately, despite his beautiful pronouncements about God, there are indications that his God was ultimately only that very astounding order of the universe.

Whatever, the awesome mind of Einstein looms ever present to all ongoing discussions about the mind-bending numbers, distances, masses and aeons of the universe. Einstein insists that the very complexity and improbability of it all demands that there be a cause in the universe which bespeaks intelligence and minute planning.

In short, the universe is an ever-expanding story of numbers so great that all other numbers are counted and measured in terms of the universe. When we want to describe things extremely numerous or outsize, we say they are astronomical.

Likewise, the Bible is also an epic story of inordinate numbers, times and distances. There is even a book of Numbers which deals more with numbers of people than with anything else. Believers are convinced that the same Author of the 13-billion-year-old universe is equally the Author of the Bible and all its wisdom and revelations.

Are you as intrigued and as satisfied as I am that the eternal Author chose to have the transcendent Word of God packaged in a book with the most unique numerical code of identity imaginable? It is almost as if the Creator of the universe winked at us in the transmission of his Word by giving us a heads up in the form of a neat number code.

In its own universe of words, the Bible establishes the Word as the linchpin, the epicenter of our lives, sharing the spiritual wisdom of the ages and supplying the only valid roadmap to eternal life. Our faith assures us that we have in the Word all we need to find the serenity and courage to fight our battles and to overcome all obstacles.

Mystical, mysterious numbers have little or no relationship to the timeless message of the Bible, but they do admittedly add to the mystique of the Bible. They add a humorous human touch of delight and joy to the world's foremost masterpiece of literature.

Without the unique alignment of the Bible with Psalms 117, 118 and 119, the Bible is at the very least the most stunning piece of literature of the ages, just as it is hands down the world's all-time best seller vis-à-vis any form of literature anywhere anytime.

All this leads one to believe that the Word of God is alive and well throughout the universe.

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Scripture Says

By Ed Young

Thy Kingdom Come, Thy Will Be Done!

OUR FATHER, WHO ART IN HEAVEN; Do we really think of Him as our father, someone we are closely connected to? HALLOWED BE THY NAME; is that the name we often use when cursing or in reverence? THY KINGDOM COME; Yes! His kingdom will someday be established here on earth.

THY WILL BE DONE ON EARTH AS IT IS IN HEAVEN; it is the will of the Lord to rule and reign and bring a heavenly kingdom to earth, for His government is a theocracy. GIVE US THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD; the staff of life is not just food, but all of our daily needs the Lord will supply, if we just ask Him to. FORGIVE US OUR TRESPASSES AS WE FORGIVE THOSE WHO TRES-PASS AGAINST US; difficult to do, but it is a must to God. Just as God forgives us, we must forgive the people who have wronged us. It's a must! LEAD US NOT INTO TEMPTATION; the Lord is aware of our weaknesses and heads off trouble we could easily have fallen into. DELIVER US FROM EVIL; how can He do that? Because His is THE KINGDOM, AND THE POWER, AND THE GLORY, FOREVER AND FOREVER.

So the Lord's Prayer tells us to: Talk to our Heavenly Father, to honor His name, to get to know His will, trust Him for your daily needs, and learn to forgive one another.

Do this daily and you will be surprised how the real meaning of this prayer will become?

Attend the church of your choice

Enjoy an evening with Joan Rivers at Magic

THE SEA COAST ECHO comedienne and fashion critic, Joan Rivers delivers two hilarious new performances at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis on July 8 and 9 at 9 p.m. Tickets are $19.95 - $49.95 and are available at the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster outlet. Premium seating is available as well as hotel packages.

Joan Rivers is one of the hardest working women in the world. She's a comedienne, bestselling author, Tony-nominated actress, playwright, screenwriter, motion picture director, Emmy-Award-winning television talk-show host, jewelry designer, business woman and mother. Her trademark mix of outspoken wit, savvy and compassion has established her as one of America's most trusted and admired first ladies of comedy.

Through her consistent appearance on Best Dressed lists, her ratings-winning fashion reports on E! Entertainment television, and her unprecedented success on QVC with her personally designed, award-winning Classics Collection of jewelry, Joan Rivers has also become synonymous with current trends, taste, elegance, and style. She's a true fashion diva.

The child of Russian immigrants, Rivers, 72, was born in Brooklyn the younger of two daughters. She was certain since earliest memory that she belonged on stage.

She discovered her gift for comedy at the age of 12. Telling a story to some of her father's doctor colleagues, she suddenly realized that they were laughing with her, not at her. She had found a way to be appreciated, admired, and in control. It was an epiphany in her struggle to comedy stardom.

After graduating Phi Beta Kappa, with no encouragement for a show business career, she took a job as a buyer for Lord & Taylor. Her flair for fashion soon got her a better position at Bond's, where she met and married the son of the vice president. The marriage lasted six months.

Determined to never again give up on her dream, Rivers made the rounds in New York, covering her shyness and insecurity with jokes. She appeared in a few off Broadway plays but was told she'd have a better chance doing comedy.

Constantly struggling, Rivers toured with USO shows, performed with Chicago's Second City, and worked the coffeehouses of Greenwich Village. A new generation of young comics struggled alongside her. Woody Allen, George Carlin, Dick Cavett and Richard Pryor were working the same clubs, with the same dream. Lenny Bruce caused her to recognize and use her own wellspring of unsparring personal humor which soon became her comedic hallmark.

In 1965, a booking on The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson finally turned Rivers' show business dream into a reality. Four months later, she met and married producer Edgar Rosenberg, and on January 20, 1968, their daughter Melissa was born.

"Edgar didn't understand much about the whole thing. After Melissa was born, he stood and waited for her luggage to come out," jokes Rivers.

That year, she got one of publicized Fox show. The Late Show Starring Joan Rivers was canceled, and she became persona non grata in Hollywood. In August 1987, Edgar, her husband of twenty-two years committed suicide.

She had hit bottom, but she wouldn't stay there. Rivers moved back to New York and in a few months took over the role of Kate Jerome in Neil Simon's Broadway Bound and garnered great reviews. In 1989, the Tribune Corporation launched Rivers in her own new syndicated daytime talk show. She won an Emmy, a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame, and a new lease on life.

As National Chairwoman of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Rivers began giving lectures around the world on suicide prevention and survival. QVC offered her the opportunity to design and sell her own line of costume jewelry, the Joan Rivers Classics Collection. Her struggle to survive became an NBC-TV movie, Tears and Laughter: The Joan and Melissa Rivers Story—in which both she and Melissa starred. In 1994, Rivers wrote and starred on Broadway in Sally Marr and Her Escorts, for which she received a Best Actress Tony nomination.

Don't miss Joan Rivers in two dynamic new performances, July 8 and 9 at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis. You must be at least 21 to attend.

Sunday Best Bets

6 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Extreme Makeover: Home Edition
Two new, back-to-back episodes spotlight the "Vital Family" — a widowed father and his three toddler sons. Policeman John Vital and his wife, Anne-Marie, had moved with their children to Anne-Marie's parents' house while they added on to their small Long Island house. When Anne-Marie died of leukemia, there was no money left to finish the work. The "Extreme" team steps in to transform the house so the family can return home.

8:30 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX
Malcolm in the Middle
As a joke, the boys enter their mom (Jane Kaczmarek) in a local beauty pageant. When they hear other contestants disingenuous, though, it's no longer funny, and they hatch a plot to help her win. Malcolm (Frankie Muniz) is forced to deliver messages to a contestant for a smitten Mr. Herkabe (Chris Eigeman) in the season finale, "Mrs. Tri-County."

7 p.m. on 4-CBS
Survivor: Palau
Ciao, Palau. The 10th season of the competitive reality show that started it all concludes with a two-hour finale in which the winner is crowned. Afterward, all the contestants reassemble to reminisce about the challenges, the alliances, the feuds and the outcome. Jeff Probst hosts.

7 p.m. on 38-WB
Charmed
Two deaths leave Phoebe and Paige (Alyssa Milano, Rose McGowan) emotionally devastated, giving Zankou (guest star Oded Fehr) an opportunity to take control of the Book of Shadows. Darryl (Dorian Gregory) must decide whether to help the sisters or work with Inspector Sheridan (guest star Jenna Lano). Holly Marie Combs and Brian Krause also star in the new episode "Death Becomes Them."

7 p.m. on 6-NBC
The Contender
In the new episode "The Final Four," the remaining contestants in the boxing competition look back at their experiences on the show so far. The relax-and-reminisce time should do them good, as they have some more difficult fights ahead — seven rounds instead of the five-round bouts they're used to. Sylvester Stallone and Sugar Ray Leonard co-host.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Desperate Housewives
Susan (Teri Hatcher) comes to a decision about her relationship — or lack thereof — with Mike (James Denton) in the new episode "Goodbye for Now." Lynette (Felicity Huffman), still worried about Annabel (guest star Melinda McGraw), takes steps to keep her and Tom (Doug Savant) apart. Bree (Marcia Cross) finally figures out George's (Roger Bart) true intentions. Carlos (Ricardo Antonio Chavira) is in more legal trouble. Eva Longoria also stars.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS
Mystery!
"Miss Marple: What Mrs. McGillicuddy Saw" is a new adaptation of Agatha Christie's "4:50 From Paddington." A train passenger (Pam Ferris) witnesses a woman's murder. She glimpses the killer in silhouette, but the train pulls away before she can see more. When the police don't believe her story because no body has been found, she teams up with her friend Miss Marple (Geraldine McEwan) to find the truth. The conclusion airs May 22.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC
Crossing Jordan
Macy's (Miguel Ferrer), career is on the line in the season finale, "Jump Push Fall." He's suspended when new testimony in a 20-year-old case against a prominent political figure points to a possible cover-up. His replacement (guest star Henry Winkler) commissions an investigation, in which Jordan (Jill Hennessy) finds the cover-up is bigger than believed. Woody (Jeremy O'Connell) goes after a cop killer.

9:02 p.m. on 25-ABC on 13-ABC
Grey's Anatomy
Alex and Cristina (Justin Chambers, Sandra Oh) learn that patients don't always believe "doctor knows best." Alex's patient puts her recovery at risk by refusing treatment on religious grounds, while the 40-ish pregnant cancer patient Cristina is treating disagrees with her advice. Meredith (Ellen Pompeo) is frustrated by how little she knows about Derek (Patrick Dempsey) in the new episode "Save Me."

Wednesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 5-FOX on 25-FOX
That '70s Show

A season-ending doubleheader opens with "Short & Curly." Jackie (Mila Kunie) has written tyde (Danny Masterson) a farewell letter but can't get out of town. They meet, and their angry exchange has her seeking comfort from Kelso (Ashton Kutcher). Red (Kurtwood Smith) loses it when the gang, reminiscing with Eric (Topher Grace) on the eve of his trip, spills the beans about what's been going on in the basement all these years.

Lost

In the new episode "Exodus: Part 1," Michael and Jin (Harold Perrineau, Daniel Dae Kim) get the raft ready for its voyage. In the midst of the preparations, however, Danielle Rousseau (Mira Furlan) appears to warn the castaways about "the others." Naveen Andrews, Matthew Fox, Maggie Grace and Jorge Garcia also star.

7 p.m. on 54-UPN
America's Next Top Model

The show's fourth season has had its share of drama, including host and head judge Tyra Banks' infamous loss of temper at Tiffany and Michelle's "flesh-eating bacteria" scare — which turned out to be a treatable case of impetigo. It ends here for two of the three remaining contestants. The last one standing gets a contract with Cover Girl, a spread in Elle magazine, and a chance to be managed by the prestigious Ford agency.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS
The King of Queens

In the season finale, Carrie (Leah Remini) suggests that she and Doug (Kevin James) buy the home of their recently deceased neighbor and sell it for some easy money. Unfortunately, their other neighbor, Lou Ferrigno (as himself), wants to do likewise, so they get in a haste and live to regret their decision.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC
Revelations

In the conclusion of the show's six-episode run, Dr. Massey and Sister Jo (Bill Pullman, Natasha McElhone) translate the book they recovered from the puzzle box. They head for Galilee to rescue Hawk (Mark Randall) and try to stop the birth of the Antichrist. Needless to say, Hadan (Michael Massey) is waiting and ready for a showdown with Massey.

8:01 p.m. on 25-ABC on 13-ABC
Alas

A two-hour episode, "The Descent: Search & Rescue," leads up to next week's season finale. APO learns the truth about Sophie (Sophia Braga) and rushes to find her before an agent parishes. With Sloane's (Ron Rifkin) Ram-baldi obsession apparently renewed, Sydney and Nadia (Jennifer Garner, Mia Maestro) wonder if they can trust him. Jack (Victor Garber) meets with Katya (Isabella Rossellini) and gets a surprising question from Vaughn (Michael Vartan).

8:30 p.m. on 4-CBS
Yes, Dear

Insert your "cheesy job" and "are you a man or a mouse" wisecracks here. After a long period of unemployment, Greg (Anthony Clark) has only one option: to take whatever job is available. Unfortunately, that job is as the mouse mascot at a pizza parlor in the season finale.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS
CSI: NY

Mac (Gary Sinise) is caught in the middle of a shooting at a coffee shop and must decide whether to save someone's life or pursue the shooter. His choice comes back to haunt him when the killer goes free, so he takes it upon himself to return to the scene in search of more evidence. Melina Kanakaredes and Carmine Giovinazzo also star in the season finale, "What You See Is What You See."

9 p.m. on 6-NBC
Law & Order

In the season finale, "Locomotion," 11 people die when a vehicle parked on railroad tracks is hit by a train. Fontana and Falco's (Dennis Farina, Michael Imperioli) investigation leads them to a despondent construction worker who claims the only one he was trying to kill was himself. McCoy's (Sam Waterston) prosecution is hampered by the other side's talk of an insanity defense and by a bombshell the defendant drops in court.

CSI: Crime Scene Investigation

With big-screen director Quentin Tarantino at the helm, the two-hour season finale "Grave Danger" promises to be one to remember. The CSI team races the clock to rescue one of its own whose life is in danger. Everyone involved with the show is being very tight-lipped about who that is; however, we can tell you that Tony Curtis and Frank Gorshin — Riddler of TV's "Batman" — are guest stars. William Petersen and Marg Helgenberger also star.

7:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Will & Grace

After seeing his new office, Will (Eric McCormack) wonders what he's gotten himself into by accepting Malcolm's (guest star Alec Baldwin) job offer. A talk with Malcolm reveals a surprising secret. Grace (Debra Messing) quits working for her old flame Tom (guest star Eric Stoltz) because his feelings are getting in the way. Jack (Sean Hayes) gets his own TV show co-hosted by Karen (Megan Mullally) — in the season finale, "Kiss

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

The Apprentice

Another season ends with one last firing. First, however, the final two candidates must complete their final two projects: promotions for the 2012 Olympics and a video game championship. Then it's off to the boardroom for Donald Trump's big decision.

8:58 p.m. on 6-NBC

ER

Disaster victims pour into the ER on the night of Dr. Carter's (Noah Wyle) farewell party at his, leaving Abby and Neela (Maura Tierney, Parminder Nagra) in charge of a skeleton staff. Kovac (Goran Visnjic) helps Sam (Linda Cardellini) search for her son, who has run away to look for his father. Pratt (Mekhi Phifer) finally confronts his own dad (guest star Danny Glover) in the season finale "The Show Must Go On."

Movie: Shallow Hal

Film-directing brothers Peter and Bobby Farrelly ("There's Something About Mary") demonstrate that beauty is only skin deep in this 2001 comedy. A man (Jack Black, "High Fidelity") who usually judges women by their looks is hypnotized, causing him to envision an overweight woman (Gwyneth Paltrow) as the sweet object of his affection. Jason Alexander co-stars.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: The Muppets' Wizard of Oz

This is not your father's "Wizard," or even your older brother's "The Wiz." It's a totally Muppetational retelling of the Oz tale. Kermit as the Scarecrow, Fozzie as the Lion, Gonzo as the Tin Man — or, Thing — and Pepe the Prawn as Toto accompany Dorothy (Ashanti) on her quest to ask the Wizard (Jeffrey Tambor) not for a trip back to Kansas, but for showbiz stardom. Queen Latifah and David Alan Grier also star.

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

A Dr. Phil Primetime Special:
Escaping Addiction

Daytime talk host Dr. Phil McGraw pays another visit to prime time. In this new special, he advises people struggling with drinking, drug use and other addictive behaviors. Alcoholics Anonymous and similar programs use 12 steps, but Dr. Phil offers seven, including acknowledging the reasons for indulging in a self-destructive act — decreasing anxiety, for example — and finding healthy ways to achieve the same result.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

What I Like About You

Holly (Amanda Bynes) panics when Vince (Nick Zano), upset at the sight of her in her ex's arms, decides to go away for the summer. Val (Jennie Garth) gets drunk after learning her former fiancé has married someone else and wakes up to discover she apparently did the same. Leslie Grossman and Wesley Jonathan also star in the season finale, "Enough Is Enough."

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

The 32nd Annual
Daytime Emmy Awards

Three heavy hitters of soap opera — Susan Lucci ("All My Children"), Eric Braeden ("The Young and the Restless") and Deirdre Hall ("Days of Our Lives") kick off the awards gala. Lucci isn't up for an award this year, but her show leads the list of nominees with 18, followed by "The Ellen DeGeneres Show" and "The View" with 11 each. Talk host-turned-media mogul Merv Griffin is this year's Lifetime Achievement Award recipient.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Reba

Reba (Reba McEntire), concerned about Van's (Steve Howey) drinking, goes on a one-woman crusade to keep him away from the bottle. Van, who can't imagine watching his beloved baseball games without knocking back a few, is not pleased. Kyrle (Scarlett Pomers) and her band get a gig at a sendoff for troops going overseas. JoAnna Garcia also stars in the season finale, "Hello, My Name Is Cheyenne."

8 p.m. on 49-PAX

Movie: Tea With Mussolini

Italy has been good to the Scorpioni, a band of eccentric Englishwomen and one American hanging out in Florence in the 1930s. There's no reason to think Fascism will change things; their unofficial leader, the ambassador's widow (Maggie Smith), has been reassured by Mussolini himself. Guess what: He died. Joan Plowright, Judi Dench, Lily Tomlin and Cher also star in this 1999 drama based on director Franco Zeffirelli's boyhood experiences.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Trial by Jury

Nobody loves a cop killer ... unless he's a victim. In "41 Shots," Kibre and Gaffney (Bebe Neuwirth, Amy Carlson) face two big stumbling blocks in prosecuting a man (guest star Treach) accused of killing a police officer. First, the defendant was shot 41 times by police. Second, his lawyer (guest star Peter Coyote) is playing the corrupt-cops card. Evidence that the man might be a federal informant muddies the waters further.

See Coast Echo

Someone else will join the $1 million club of "Survivor" winners as the final Tribal Council is staged by host Jeff Probst in the finale of "Survivor: Palau" Sunday, May 15, on CBS.

As usual, the two-hour conclusion—which is likely to have its share of surprises, if past "Survivor" editions are any indication—will be followed by an hourlong reunion special that brings all of the contestants back together. Don't expect a complete lovefest, though, since some major beans are usually spilled.

Saturday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

Without a Trace

Malone (Anthony LaPaglia) and his team search for a missing man (guest star J.K. Simmons, "Spider-Man") whose son is a death-row inmate about to be executed in "Two Families." The father's efforts to prove his son innocent may have led to his disappearance. Daytime serial veterans Jordan Baker ("Passions") and Kate McNeil ("As the World Turns") also guest star.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

America's Most Wanted

America's Most Wanted

Host John Walsh isn't hunting fugitives in the new episode "Mr. Walsh Goes to Washington." He's looking for answers and changes. Walsh visits Congress to speak out for tougher laws to protect children from predators. It isn't his first time at the Capitol; he's appeared before Congress and state legislatures more than 50 times as an advocate for tougher laws and the rights of victims.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: NY

A real police terrorism drill in New York provides some of the backdrop for "Rain." A robbery in Chinatown goes horribly awry, and one person is shot dead, two set afire and a fourth abducted. Gary Sinise and Melina Kanakaredes star.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

Special Victims Unit

A mother (guest star

Cathy Moriarty)

tries to break up her teenage daughter's

(guest star Danielle

Panabaker) relationship with a

21-year-old boy

reporting him for statutory rape.

The girl, however, claims they've never had sex.

When Mom turns

up dead, Benson and Stabler (Mariska Hargitay, Chris Moltisanti) suspect the boyfriend at first, but the truth is a shocker that has Benson dealing with her own mother issues in "Intoxicated."

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

Law & Order

A television executive turns up dead after a charity event in "Dining

Out." Fontana and Green

(Dennis Farina, Jesse L.

Martin) suspect a pair of thieves who'd been stealing from the charity, but their suspicion soon turns to a charismatic

celebrity chef

(guest star

Jose, Febus)

whom the victim was seeing on the side and whose show

she was about to cancel.
